

BRAND GUIDELINES

OUR LOGO

Our logo is a key element of the Holiday River Expeditions brand and serves as a strong visual signifier in the marketplace. The brand is built on a rich history and heritage, which is reflected in the design of the mark.

The logo is composed of a boat, waves, and an oar, representing the company’s core offering: oar-powered river expeditions.

Two primary orientations of the logo exist, allowing it to adapt to different layouts and applications. When possible, the primary horizontal lockup should be used. In more vertical spaces, the vertical lockup may be used as an alternative.

General Guidelines

To preserve the integrity and recognition of the logo:

- Do not alter the rotation, proportions, or orientation of the mark.
- Do not modify the approved color palette.
- Only use logo variants defined within these guidelines.

Consistent use of the logo helps maintain a clear and recognizable brand presence across all applications.

OUR ICON

The Holiday River Expeditions icon may be used either on its own or paired with the logotype as part of the primary and secondary brand marks.

The secondary stencil icon is intended for stencil-based applications and other select use cases. Its use should be limited and approved when possible.

The stencil icon should never be used as the primary brand mark and should never be paired with the logotype.

LOGO COLORWAYS

The logo should be used in red and white whenever possible, as this is the primary and preferred brand expression.

A black version of the logo should only be used when required by the application — for example, when requested by a vendor or partner, or when the logo will be reproduced in black-and-white documents.

When the logo is placed over photography or imagery, it should always appear in white to maintain clarity and contrast.

COLOR

Holiday Red and White form the foundation of the brand and are among its most important and recognizable elements. Maintaining consistent use of these colors helps preserve the company’s visual heritage.

Holiday Red closely aligns with the traditional Holiday red paint, serving as an accurate representation for both digital and print applications.

Consistent use of these core colors helps ensure the brand remains recognizable across all platforms and materials.
